Beautiful City, Yokohama

LEE Minju

My favorite place in Japan is Yokohama, where I could made wonderful memories. I went Yokohama twice, first was just for one-day travel with my friends on April, and second was for rock band concert on June.

The biggest reason why I felt Yokohama as attractive place is because the city is near the sea. After spending time in the city first, I was able to move to the sea by walking a little. Also, I guess everyone would agree that Yokohama's night view is beautiful. The experience of watching the sea and the night view together in the Nippon Maru Memorial Park at night was very special. The wind from near the sea was very cool, so it wasn't hot at all. I could see people having a nice time with their friends, lovers or families. There was a sense of happiness in the place itself.

I also love Yokohama has amusement park inside the city. There were more attractions than I thought. I rode a Ferris wheel which is considered a landmark of Yokohama with my friends. I could see Yokohama's beautiful night view on the top.

And I got surprised about Pia Arena MM in Yokohama, where I watched the FLOW Rock Festival on June, 29th. There were so many people in the Arena as it was big concert, but I didn't feel that place as very crowded. All seats have chair so everyone could stand or seat whenever they want, and the place was under controlled very well by the concert officials. I could enjoy that 7-hour concert in cool, clean and pleasant environment.

In additional, what I ate in Yokohama were all delicious. I could ate Ramen that smells like seafood, Curry with a lot of pork cutlet on top and Omakase Sushi. When I ate pork cutlet curry, I was very happy that the clerk who welcomed me talked to me in Korean very kindly.

Therefore, Yokohama is likely to remain the best place in Japan because it is such a space full of good experiences and memories of delicious food !
