

■Career Model Case Study

In May and June, a series of career talks were given by alumni who had participated in global activities during their university years and who subsequently developed global careers. It is hoped that by hearing about these alumni's experiences, current students can better envision their future careers and make better use of their time while they are still at the university. All the speakers—Kenta Okuyama, Shingo Hattori, Hisaka Oshiki, And Hikaru Furukawa—provided excellent advice and much food for thought to current students regarding studying abroad, career decisions, and understanding oneself.

■World Refugee Day

The United Nations has destined June 20 as “The World Refugee Day” to honor refugees around the world. It is “an occasion to build empathy and understanding of their plight and to recognize their resilience in rebuilding their lives” (UNHCR). Hosei University has also held various events in the past that facilitate deeper understanding of the refugee issue in the world, including this year’s Global Day, the screening of movies related to refugees in partnership with UNHCR in 2018 and 2019. It is hoped that the Hosei community will also take this opportunity to learn and think more about the refugee issue.

■Tama Campus “International Students Exchange”

After a break of two years due to the Pandemic, the international students exchange was held again on Tama campus, which facilitated interactions between first year international students and those who have come before them. About 59 students participated, and among them 41 were international students from overseas. Participants also included students from other campuses and graduate students. The event was organized by FiTus, a Tama Campus international exchange circle, and definitely helped new international students to have a great start in their study abroad life!

■ Support for Students from Ukraine

Hosei University provides support for Ukrainian students displaced from their homeland due to the current crisis. We offer the opportunity of short-term study to a limited number of students, as well as economic support for those admitted. Applicants will go through document screening as well as an interview, and at the earliest, the passing students will join Hosei University this Fall semester.

■ Spring Semester Study Abroad Fair

The Study Abroad Fair was held at the Media Lounge in Sotobori Building from June 14 – 16. Booths were set up by agents outside campus which provided consultation with students interested in studying abroad. In addition, students could pick up pamphlets and materials containing essential information about scholarship and so on at an information corner. About 100 students visited the consultation booths, and a lot more visited the information corner.
