

FPT Spring International Internship program 2022

FPT Spring international internship program 2022 [business] Application Guide for the Online Business Internship Program Co-sponsored by FPT University

Hosei University will host a business internship program, lasting for about four weeks, at a number of companies in Vietnam in cooperation with FPT University, which is our partner university established with the aim of cultivation of human resources by FPT Corporation, the largest information technology (IT) company in the country. Under the program, students can experience an online internship not only in IT fields such as software development, but also in various other business fields, including personnel affairs, marketing, publicity and quality assurance.

Note: You can't apply more than one program in the Spring of 2022

Objective: To acquire business skills at a global level through online internships at Vietnamese companies.

Co-sponsor: FPT University (in Vietnam) <http://international.fpt.edu.vn/>

Number of participants: 2 persons

*If none of the applicants is suited for a certain location, participation in the program, at the location, may be cancelled.

Eligible applicants: University students and graduate students

* Any major is OK, but the available positions and companies of the internship are mainly in IT & Business.

Internship site: Online

Training contents: Selected applicants will take part in an online orientation to learn basic knowledge of companies and virtual communication, and then they will join to an online internship program at a hosting company for about four weeks. After the selection of applicants, they will be assigned to suitable hosting companies depending on desired by each participant - encompassing a broad range of business fields, including IT fields such as software development as well as marketing, publicity and quality assurance - through online meetings and other modes of correspondences among Hosei University, FPT University and hosting companies.

Application for Credit: Credit can be applied for but credit granting policies may differ between faculties.
